Love is a complex emotion that can be both exhilarating and devastating. It can drive us to great heights of happiness and plunge us into depths of despair. In her novel Because Love Him Because of Love, Mahsuda Snaith explores the many facets of love, from its passionate beginnings to its often messy and heartbreaking end.

The novel tells the story of a young woman named Zara, who is forced to marry a man she doesn't love in order to save her family from financial ruin. Despite her initial reluctance, Zara eventually falls deeply in love with her husband, Tariq. However, their happiness is short-lived, as Tariq is killed in a car accident just a few months after their wedding.

Zara is devastated by Tariq's death, and she struggles to find meaning in her life without him. She eventually remarries, but her second marriage is unhappy and ends in divorce. Zara is left feeling lost and alone, until she meets a man named Amir. Amir is everything that Tariq was not: he is kind, compassionate, and understanding.
