Synopsis

Losing You is the 15th book in the Reno Gabriini Mob Boss series by author Maria Savva. The book follows Reno Gabriini, a powerful and ruthless mob boss, as he grapples with the loss of his beloved wife, Isabella. As Reno struggles to cope with his grief, he must also protect his family and empire from those who seek to take advantage of his vulnerability.

Reno Gabrini is a man accustomed to power and control. As the head of one of the most powerful crime families in the country, he is used to getting what he wants, when he wants it. But when his wife, Isabella, is killed in a car accident, Reno's world is shattered. He is consumed by grief and anger, and he lashes out at anyone who gets in his way.

As Reno struggles to come to terms with his loss, he must also deal with the threats to his family and empire. His rivals are circling like sharks, sensing his weakness. And his own men are beginning to question his leadership. Reno must find a way to pull himself together and protect what is most important to him. But can he do it without losing himself in the process?

Review

Losing You is a powerful and emotional novel that explores the themes of love, loss, grief, and redemption. Maria Savva does an excellent job of capturing the raw emotions of her characters, and she creates a vivid and believable world that readers will be drawn into. Reno Gabrini is a complex and flawed character, but he is also a man who is capable of great love and compassion. Readers will root for him as he struggles to overcome his grief and find a way to move on.

The novel is well-paced and suspenseful, and it kept me guessing until the very end. I highly recommend Losing You to fans of mob boss romances, thrillers, and organized crime stories.
