How Sister Sarah No No Horses Works

The Fibonacci sequence is a series of numbers in which each number is the sum of the two preceding numbers. The sequence begins with 0 and 1, and the following numbers are 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 13, 21, 34, and so on. Sister Sarah No No Horses uses the Fibonacci sequence to identify horses that are likely to win or place. The system looks for horses that have finished in the top three in their last two races and that are running in a race with a field size that is a Fibonacci number.

For example, if a horse has finished in the top three in its last two races and is running in a race with a field size of 5, 8, or 13, then that horse would be a good candidate for a Sister Sarah No No Horses bet. Sister Sarah No No Horses also takes into account other factors, such as the horse's jockey, trainer, and recent workouts. The system uses a proprietary algorithm to weigh all of these factors and identify the horses that are most likely to win or place.

The Benefits of Using Sister Sarah No No Horses

There are a number of benefits to using Sister Sarah No No Horses. First, the system is based on sound mathematical principles. The Fibonacci sequence has been used for centuries to identify patterns in nature, and it has been proven to be a reliable predictor of future events. Second, Sister Sarah No No Horses uses a unique algorithm that is not available to the public. This algorithm allows the system to identify horses that are likely to win or place that would not be identified by other handicapping systems.

Third, Sister Sarah No No Horses has been proven to be profitable over the long term. The system has been used by professional bettors for over 20 years, and it has consistently produced positive results. Finally, Sister Sarah No No Horses is easy to use. The system comes with a user-friendly interface that makes it easy to identify and place bets.
